WE'RE THANKFUL FOR GENEROUS GUESTS AND A GLORIOUS WEEKEND AHEAD

Visitors to Northwest Trek get half off general admission when they bring two or more food items for Emergency Food Network, and donations already total well over 1,000 pounds

EATONVILLE, Wash. – It's going to be a glorious weekend at Northwest Trek Wildlife Park. The forecast calls for sunny skies, no rain and very generous guests.

Visitors who bring two or more shelf-stable food items for donation to Pierce County's Emergency Food Network receive half off general admission.

The Help Out for Half Off food drive is Northwest Trek's way of giving back to its visitors and the community. Already in November, generous guests have brought in well over 1,000 pounds of food.

The drive runs through Nov.29.

That means visitors have this Saturday and Sunday, plus Nov. 27, 28 and 29 to help Pierce County's hungry and get a great admission deal at a wildlife park like no other in the Northwest.

Sharp-eyed visitors might spot 4-month-old moose calf Willow in the Free-Roaming Area during a tram ride through the 435-acre home to bison, elk, bighorn sheep, moose, deer and other animals.

Every visit to Northwest Trek comes with a narrated tram ride through the 435-acre Free-Roaming Area, which is home to American bison, Roosevelt elk, bighorn sheep, moose, deer and other animals. Sharp-eyed visitors might get a view of 4-month-old moose calf Willow and her mom Connie. Willow is the first moose born at the wildlife park in 15 years. And as a sweet surprise, she was born on Northwest Trek's 40th birthday – July 17th.

In addition, visitors can walk forested pathways past natural exhibits inhabited by native Northwest animals such as a grizzly bear, two black bears, wolves, foxes, Canada lynx, river otters, a beaver, fishers, owls and others.

The Help Out for Half Off discount cannot be combined with any other Northwest Trek offers or promotions and applies to general admission prices.
